At Total Health, you'll get the help you need to shop with confidence. Because our store and clinic are in the same building, our retail staff are highly trained and our practitioners spend time on the sales floor. When you shop at Total Health, you'll never feel overwhelmed and you'll always get reliable answers to your questions.

We require independent lab analysis proving purity and truth in labeling for the products we stock. We are strong believers in offering whole food, non-synthetic vitamin and minerals for optimum absorption.
