When in doubt, throw it out!

The recycling industry is facing a major problem of receiving an increase in contamination – things that are not accepted for recycling and should not be put into the recycling bins. This contamination is leading to worldwide problems regarding the markets for recyclables. Remember, “when in doubt, throw it out” (in the trash). This is better than “guess recycling.” But the important key is to recycle the right stuff. For more information on other recycling and disposal options visit Waukesha County Recycles.
