

Waste Management Update Tuesday 6/15/21

Waste Management will be completing Monday pickups as indicated below in yellow.

Tuesday trash/recycling routes will be delayed, but will be worked on today and into tomorrow.

Waste Management may be working as late as 8 pm into the evening hours, so please leave your carts out until at least that time and place your cart(s) out again tomorrow if you are not serviced.

This is not just a New Berlin issue. Other communities are experiencing these same problems. We can assure you that all options are being explored at this time. Again, we apologize for the delays. Please be patient.
